
A COAL BREAKER BURNED.

SCRANTON, Penn., Dec. 11.—The Hillside Coal Company's breaker at Moosie, about five miles below this city, was entirely destroyed by fire to-night. The loss is $60,000; insurance not known. There were between 200 and 300 men and boys employed at the works.

The New York Times

Published: December 12, 1888

Copyright © The New York Times