

PURPOSE

This publication affords a means of instantaneously locating reference to all reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission dealing with any commodity.

SCOPE

This book covers all decisions of the Commission, both reported and unreported, from 1887 to May 15, 1928, including Volumes 1 to 140.

SUPPLEMENTS AND REISSUES

Supplements will be issued to, and this publication will be reissued from time to time, as found desirable.

ARRANGEMENT

Commodities are arranged alphabetically.

Indented under each commodity description there is shown first, the origin, and second, the destination point, points or territories covered by the report cited. The terms employed, while necessarily brief, are concise and, we believe, will be readily understood.

In the reference column is shown the volume number followed by the first page number of the report. When the report covers more than one commodity and is lengthy, there is also shown the page number on which specific reference to the particular commodity is made.

Under each commodity the volumes are arranged in numerical order; thus the oldest decisions come first and the more recent reports later.

DUPLICATION OF VOLUMES 1 TO 5, INCLUSIVE

§ There are two editions of Volumes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Interstate Commerce Commission reports. The volume and page numbers in these two editions do not agree. Both are indexed in the publication. References to the edition we believe to be more widely distributed are shown in the regular columns of this book followed by references to the volume and page number on which the report appears in the other edition. The latter references are prefixed by the mark §.

CROSS-REFERENCES

This publication is copiously cross-referenced not only as to identical commodities but also as to articles which are more or less analogous. It will be found desirable, therefore, to carefully examine commodity descriptions for cross-references and care should also be taken to examine all headings under which the same article is listed, depending upon different methods of preparation, packing, etc.
